NY20+ International Artist Residency Program 2021 Open Call

Situated in Chengdu, Sichuan, NY20+ is an art promotion organization supported by Nongyuan Culture (abbreviated as NY below), will interconnect Chengdu and other regions across the world for the development of art and culture. As a major carrier of Bashu Culture featuring unique designs and craftsmanship, Chengdu shows its strong inclusiveness, vitality and creativity in the integration of traditional and contemporary elements. Artist Residency Program, launched in 2008, is based on this inclusive city and committed to make a diverse, interactive, creative and continual international artist in residence program. NY's large-scale Art & Nature Ecology and more than 200 Chinese artists resource enable NY20+ to initiate the Rubik's Cube Project, Sculpt Tale Project and more for the purpose of propelling conversation between Chengdu-based and international artists, as well as creating an international art tribe where diverse art and culture flourishes.

In 2021, NY20+ continues to dig into indigenous culture and will utilize Chengdu elements, Bashu Culture, traditional art and other media to develop the residency program, and promote the diversity of art and culture in Chengdu and other regions.

Applicants can refer to Bashu culture and traditional Chinese handicrafts, or choose any kind of Bashu or traditional elements, patterns, historical stories, craftsmanship and etc. for using them in the art creation without limitation of creation forms. NY20+ will select the residency project plans submitted by applicants and then provide the selected ones with related academic support and opportunity for exhibition and exchanges.
